

I am asking you to consider carefully your decision about LPFM. DO NOT allow these to take over translators and remove stations such as KLOVE from the radio. KLOVE is a major part of my life, and my community. This radio station, based in California, is the only station of its kind available to this community. Without this station, we are unable to listen to contemporary Christian music. This would keep my children from listening to their chosen type of music in the car, or when they are walking with their walkman. If you were to replace this station with something else, our entire community would be left without an option to listen to Christian music. We are a small community, but we are also a religious one. You would be depriving us of our only option to be able to turn on the radio and listen to a station that we can hear and allow our children to hear without being afraid of what is being played or said. I don't have to worry about inappropriate music, or language, or needing a 7 second delay on this station. It is 24 hour music, it is Christian music, and it sends a good message. If you take it away, you are taking away the only wholesome thing that is available in this community on the airwaves.

Please consider this carefully before you deprive us of the one good thing that we have available to us.

Thanks.
